Read Below For Details.'

Dear Friend,

I'd like you to imagine adding a new profit center to your business that will take less than one hour of your time each day. Yet will reward you with an extra 6 figures to your income.

You'll love taking over my very successful pond and water gardening website. It runs almost entirely on autopilot, meaning other 'virtual' employees do all the work – not you.

No. This is not a franchise! This is a chance for ONE lucky person (maybe you) to take over one of the most successful pond and water gardening websites on the entire Internet.

My name is Brett Fogle, President and owner of MacArthurWaterGardens.com, and it is with very mixed feelings and some regret that I've decided to put this business on the market for sale.

Why? I'll tell you in a minute. First let me tell you about how it got started.

I've poured my heart and soul into this business for 8+ years, starting as one of the first pond websites online back in 1998. I've had other offers over the years from various 'other' website owners, but I didn't want to see it broken down, changed to some other name, or disbanded altogether.

So who better to reach out to first, than to my fellow business owners and readers of this magazine, and...

It Could Be You!

I'd like nothing better than for one of my peers to take over the reigns, bring in some new 'blood' and energy. To grow this business and give it the attention it deserves...

You see, there's no doubt in my mind that MacArthur Water Gardens could easily double it's sales and market penetration, with a little hard work and effort. (And I'll coach you every step of the way).

I recently spoke at an Internet Marketing seminar in Washington D.C. and featured this website in my presentation, entitled "How to Make Six Figures (or More) in Your Own Drop-Shipping Website."

I'm an Internet Marketing expert. People have paid me $5,000 just to 'mentor' them on how to set up this type of business.

So you'll also get me, guiding and coaching your every step (within reason, because I'm very, very busy). But I'm committed to see that you do well – I want to see my brainchild continue and be successful...

The hard part has been done for you. I've figured out what's working, what products people buy, where to get them, and I've even built an awesome website that's running on auto-pilot. It dominates the search engines, too. Just type in any pond related words (like pond filter) and see where we rank on Google. That's free traffic that brings in boatloads of sales (with zero advertising – it's free money)!

All sales are handled 'online' and processed automatically. Funds are put into our bank account before we ship a single product. Every single order is pre-paid.

So Why Am I Selling If It's Such A Great Business?

Here's why...

I started another online business three years ago in the stocks and options trading markets. (Trading is another one of my longtime passions.)

This other business is exploding for me. We're now positioned to go international, and to be candid, it's taking up every minute of my time... I don't even have an hour to spare. And so the MacArthur Water Gardens business is somewhat neglected. (Though still very profitable!)

So I've made the difficult decision to 'move on' and give someone else the chance to run this great business.

Of course, complete financials are available, as well as all the other relevant and important details (like listing of top ten search engine terms, other intangible assets, annual revenues, P&L's, etc for the past three years, website traffic and more).

Believe me, I'm getting out for the 'right' reasons, and I can tell you with complete confidence that for the right person, this is a great opportunity ... and it could be you.

If I had my way, I'd keep it for another season or two, then put it on the market for at least twice what I'm asking now.

However, the opportunity-cost towards my other business and the impact on my home life are pushing me to make this move...

Are You The One?

If this sounds appealing to you, and you would like to add this very established and successful business (that takes less than an hour each day) to your existing business, then I'd like to give you more details.

Please call me directly at 561-347-7853 and I'll explain how to get all your questions answered. Serious inquiries only, please. This is a substantial opportunity for the right person.
